

CARNEGIE'S WILL TO BE FILED SOON

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Although Andrew Carnegie, steel magnate and philanthropist, declared during his lifetime that he expected to give away his huge fortune and "die a pauper," his estate, to be disposed of by a will which will be filed for probate next week, was "several times $50,000,000."

It was learned from an authoritative source here last night. Publication of a story to the effect that Mr. Carnegie had given away all of his estate with the exception of about $50,000,000, brought the statement that the estate was much larger. It also was stated that a will of approximately 4,500 words, drawn by Mr. Carnegie himself and which was generally believed to be his last will, had been superseded by a briefer document of 2,000 words, drawn by Ellhu Root.

The decision of Mr. Carnegie to revoke the original will, on which he had expended much time and thought and which bequeathed a large part of his estate to his daughter Margaret, was said to have resulted from her marriage to Ensign Roswell Miller several months ago. Mr. Carnegie settled a large "dot" on his daughter at the time of her wedding, and for this reason is said to have found it necessary to alter the provisions of the will.

The Home Trust Company of New Jersey, which was organized by Mr. Carnegie in 1901 for the purpose of administering a fund set aside by him for nearly 500 persons to whose individual welfare he had contributed, will act as executor of the will.

WOMEN SEEK MORE SCHOOL BOARD JOBS

With the bill to be presented to Congress, providing for an elective school board of education, passed by the steering committee of the citizen's joint committee, Miss Ethel Smith, of the Woman's Trade Union League, today began a fight to eliminate a clause in the bill which limits the number of women members of the board to three.

The bill was adopted at a meeting in the Board of Trade rooms Tuesday night. It was read by B. W. Payne, and Miss Smith entered an objection when the limitation clause was reached. The bill will go to the citizen's joint committee for ratification and then to Congress. Miss Smith is planning a fight when the bill comes before the committee in the House.

Five Vote For Bill

Five members of the steering committee voted for the bill, which contained fifty-seven clauses. They were B. W. Payne, Dr. Star Parsona, Walter S. Early, and George H. Warren, Miss Smith, Miss Alice Deal, president of the High School Teachers' Union, and J. Clinton Hatt, secretary of the committee, left the meeting before a vote was taken.

Mr. Payne announced that the Central Labor Union and Federal Employees' Union No. 2 were in favor of a plan to elect the school board. The bill provides for nine members of the board, to be elected by the citizens of the District, six members to be white and three colored. There shall be no more than three women on the board. Each year the city will vote for members of the board. In detail, the bill describes the methods that shall be used in the election of school board members.

Three-Year Terms

The two white male members first elected who receive the highest number of votes, together with the colored woman member, shall serve three years. The white male member receiving the next highest number of votes in their respective groups shall serve two years. The other three members chosen in the first election shall serve one year each.

Elections would be held on the first Tuesday after the first day in November.

Williams, of Boyds. The bill sets forth that the couple were married in 1907 and lived together until 1913, when the plaintiff was forced by the conduct of the defendant to leave him. Williams formerly represented this county in the House of Delegates.

Mrs. Lila D. Goldsborough, of Washington, formerly of this county, was recently granted an absolute divorce by Judge Edward C. Peter in the circuit court here from Martin W. Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

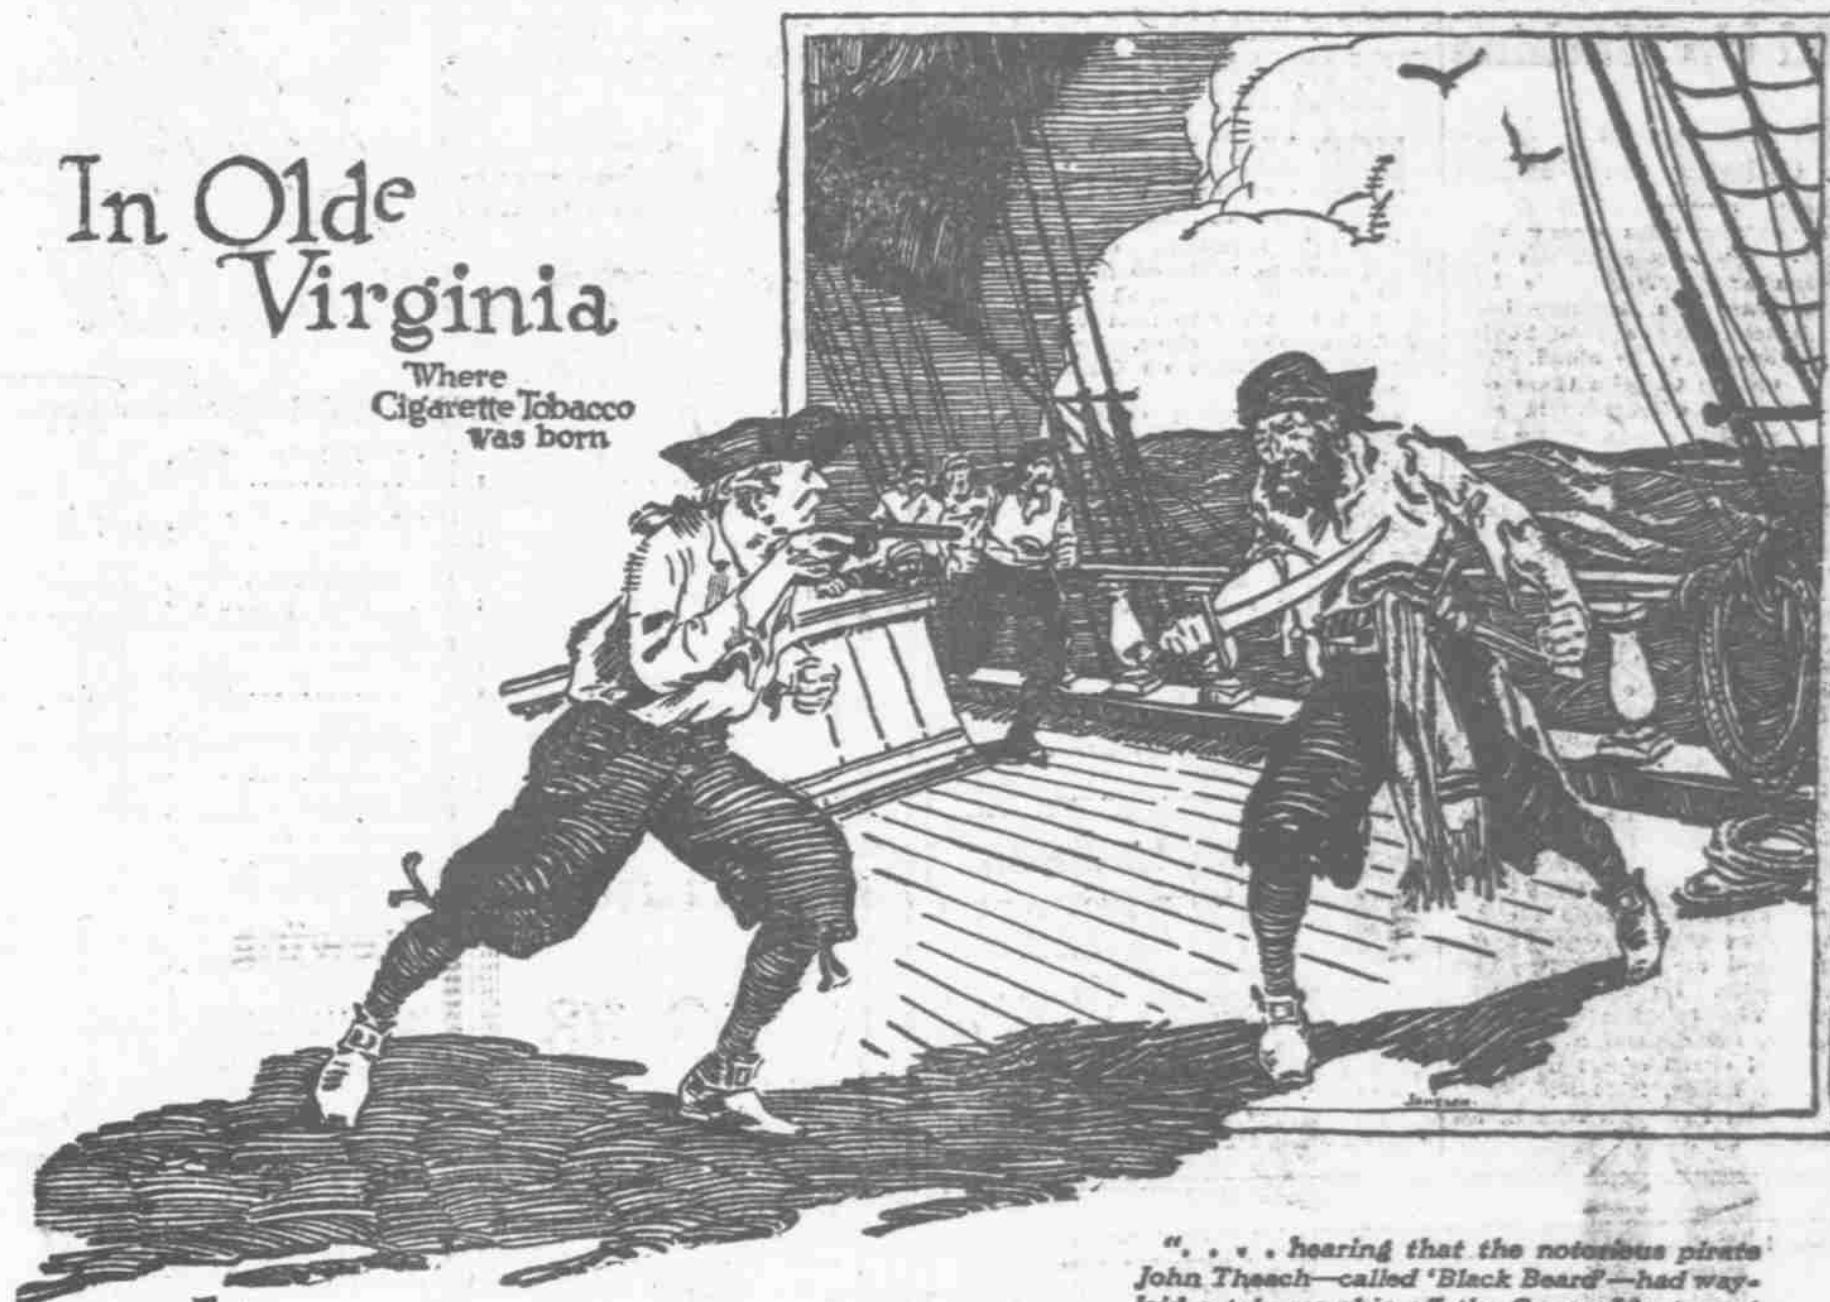

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulisified cocoon oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulisified cocoon oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

In Olde Virginia

Where Cigarette Tobacco
was born

"... hearing that the notorious pirate John Thatch—called 'Black Beard'—had way-laid a tobacco ship off the Cape, Lieutenant Maynard put to sea and encountered him in Pimlico Bay, Nov. 21, 1718. Maynard boarded the pirate brig and slew Black Beard with his own hand before the pirate Cosway could succeed in blowing up both vessels by touching off a powder keg."

—Cooke's VIRGINIA.

The tobacco that is honestly "different"

Virginia tobacco has every quality that a good cigarette tobacco should possess—flavor, fragrance and body plus a certain "liveliness of taste" that other tobaccos do not have.

That is why Virginia does not need to be mixed with other tobaccos, but tastes best smoked straight, in an all-Virginia cigarette.

If you want all of that rich Virginia flavor and that lively, different taste, smoke Piedmonts. These cigarettes are made entirely from Virginia and from the choicest selections of the Virginia crop.

NOTE—Virginia tobacco, unlike foreign-grown tobaccos, has no import duty to pay. That is why Piedmont's quality does not cost you more. Import duty does not make a cigarette taste any better. Why not get all your money's worth in tobacco quality?
